Message from the Chair

Robert G. Power

This was a tremendously exciting year for the Ontario Trillium Foundation as we began working under our new mandate to allocate $100 million from the Government of Ontario's charitable gaming initiative to charitable and non-profit organizations across Ontario. An agency of the Ministry of Citizenship, Culture and Recreation, Trillium is now one of the largest foundations in Canada in terms of its annual granting budget and the number of grants it makes to groups each year. In addition, we have a unique network of more than 300 volunteers who use their intimate knowledge of their regions to fulfill our mandate of making strategic investments in communities across Ontario. It is because of the combined strength of our volunteers, generous government support and professional staff that we have had a very successful period of growth this year. I would also like to acknowledge the strong support provided to Trillium by the Minister of Citizenship, Culture and Recreation, the Honourable Helen Johns. We have begun to make a real difference in the lives of people, which is the true goal of everyone involved with the Ontario Trillium Foundation.

Our program is carried out through 16 volunteer Grant Review Teams (GRTs) who make recommendations to the Board of Directors which is responsible for approving grants. The foundation makes grants in four sectors: Arts and Culture, Environment, Social Services, and Sports and Recreation. Under our Community Grants program, each GRT catchment area has an allocation of funds to support local programs. By using a per capita formula, we can ensure that these funds are equitably distributed across the province. Under our Province-wide Grants program, 20% of the available funds are set aside for projects that are either provincial in nature or have an impact in three or more GRT catchment areas.

We are pleased with the results we have achieved during the first year of the new Trillium program. We have trained 320 GRT volunteers in our granting policies and built on their knowledge of local priorities. We have also developed and trained staff resources at the Trillium office while ensuring that operating costs do not exceed 10% of our allocation.

During the year we launched our new program guidelines and provided regional information sessions that were attended by hundreds of interested citizens across the province. We made grants across all regions and funds were fully allocated in most areas. A few GRT areas were slow to develop strong proposals, therefore some unspent amounts will be carried forward to the same areas in the next year.

Now that the basis of the new Ontario Trillium Foundation program has been built, we will concentrate our efforts on refining our granting process.

It is important that we continue to manage our stakeholders' expectations through a transparent process that emphasizes clear criteria for awarding grants. This year, we were challenged by receiving more than $400 million in grant applications -- four times the monies that were available. Next year, we anticipate even more applications. Faced with such overwhelming demand, it is vital that we remain vigilant to ensure that the foundation's funds are spent in the most effective way.

To meet the new challenges, Trillium will focus next year on six objectives.

First, we will expand our assessment criteria to consider every application for its economic, social and community impact; evidence of collaboration with other service providers; and the capacity and sustainability of the applicant organization.

Second, we will enhance our evaluation tools and resources so that we can accurately measure the impact of our grants. This will also allow us to ensure that money is invested and used as proposed by the applicant and approved by the board. To facilitate this evaluation, grantees will be required to submit to us comprehensive reports about use of the grants.

Our third objective is to seek ways to make our Caring Communities Awards program more cost-effective. The only award program of its type in Canada, it has had a significant impact in many winning communities across the province. We will be continuing this program in a new format and integrating it more thoroughly with our granting programs.

Fourth, we will maintain our leadership position in community-building in Ontario by becoming a more pro-active funder. In the coming year, we will take the initiative by identifying one or more areas in the province-wide segment of our program in which to make a limited number of strategic grants.

Our fifth objective is to monitor the experience of the GRTs whose knowledge of their own communities is vital to the funding process. A survey of GRT members late last year revealed that they feel positive about the effectiveness of the program and their own input and we will continue to consult with them.

Finally, we are continuing to move toward self-sufficiency. Currently, we use interest income to cover a portion of our expenses. Our aim within the next few years is to cover the majority of our operating expenses from interest income, preserving as much as possible of the $100 million for allocation each year.

These six objectives will help us to hone our granting process to ensure that we make the best possible use of the Ontario Trillium Foundation's funds.

The celebration of the year 2001 as the International Year of the Volunteer will provide an opportunity to highlight the invaluable work of our volunteers. On behalf of my fellow board members, I would like to thank the members of the GRTs for their thoughtful and effective contribution throughout the year. During the past year, the Board worked hard on the selection of a new CEO for the foundation. We would also like to thank the support that we received from Barb Minogue and Gary Gould, Co-Chairs of the Charitable Gaming Implementation Team. And we would like to acknowledge the significant contribution of our dedicated staff team, under the leadership of our new CEO, who joined us in September 1999.

Together, we have met the challenges that this past year brought in creating the new Ontario Trillium Foundation. We will continue to strive toward achieving even greater results and building on the success of our first year. I know I can speak for everyone on the board when I say we are proud to be associated with the Ontario Trillium Foundation and the vital role it plays in enhancing the quality of life in Ontario.

Report on Operational Objectives

L. Robin Cardozo

This year, the Ontario Trillium Foundation touched the lives of millions of people in Ontario.

In rural and urban communities across the province, Ontario Trillium Foundation grants to large and small organizations have added to the quality of economic and community life. The foundation has also acted as a catalyst by sparking innovative collaboration among service providers across the four sectors it supports: Arts and Culture, Environment, Social Services, and Sports and Recreation.

In April 1999, the foundation began operating with an increased funding level of $100 million from the Government of Ontario's charitable gaming initiative, and during the year we allocated $80.7 million of this amount in the form of grants. The foundation received 3,203 applications for funds of which the Board of Directors approved 1,396 and declined 1,272. Another 535 applications were carried forward to next year.

The increased allocation of funds required changes in the foundation's operations. We had to develop new policies and programs, provide orientation for the Grant Review Teams (GRT) volunteers, and increase staff support. As we began administering the new funds, we identified a number of challenges that had to be addressed. Both GRT volunteers and staff needed to embark on an accelerated learning curve in order to service the increased allocation of funds, and staff organization had to be reviewed. As well, we found applications in some geographic areas and some sectors were slow to come in.

We have addressed these challenges in a number of ways.

In the granting process, the Board of Directors has identified areas for additional focus: social, community and economic impact; collaboration with other service providers; and capacity and sustainability of the applicant organization.

At the same time, we are gathering a body of information that will help us to develop granting priorities for the foundation and also facilitate our granting decisions.

Another way in which we can meet current challenges is by reaching out to the sectors and communities to which we provide funds and making the work of the foundation known. In keeping with our Memorandum of Understanding with the Ministry of Citizenship, Culture and Recreation, we have conducted town hall meetings and funders' forums in local communities. Foundation volunteers and staff have attended many community meetings across the province.

To prepare our volunteers for the new program with its increased grants, we conducted a conference and orientation session for GRT volunteers. Both were very well received.

With many of our granting systems in place, we are now focusing on communications and public relations issues. We are planning a communications strategic planning initiative and have commissioned a customer service survey of grantees and declined applicants. Local communications are paramount in our plans.

Finally, we have reviewed our administration, systems and controls to ensure that our processes are transparent and operate flawlessly. We commissioned an independent external firm to advise us on enhancing our systems, processes and controls. Along with this, we have converted to a new software system that offers greater capacity and standardized administration procedures. We have also reorganized staff administrative support and office space.

The funding scope of the Ontario Trillium Foundation is creating increased expectations that will provide us with further challenges in the coming years. We also anticipate significant resourcing challenges since it will be necessary to spend more time on the monitoring and evaluation of grants.

As we move into our second year of operations under the new program, our visionary board, committed GRT volunteers and talented staff team will ensure that we continue to allocate the foundation's grants wisely and effectively. I believe we are well positioned to face the challenges ahead.

Featured Grants: How We Make A Difference

The following are some featured examples of the work that the Ontario Trillium Foundation has supported in Ontario communities.

Algoma, Cochrane, Manitoulin and Sudbury Iroquois Falls Cross Country Ski Club Sports and Recreation – Snow equipment $15,000 over one year

This grant will allow the Iroquois Falls Ski Club to be more competitive and to provide safer trails. The money will be used to purchase a new snowmobile and new ski trail grooming equipment, including a trail tenderizer and a second track setter.

Club president Allan Cashmore says the club will now be able to prepare its trails so that they will compare to those of bigger clubs. Trails will also be safer and better tracked. “This will be a big asset to all users, from the handicapped to the seniors,”he says.

Champlain Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Cornwall and District Social and Human Services – “Big Bunch Friendship Program” $45,900 over three years

Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Cornwall and District: to operate the “Big Bunch Friendship Program” for children who are currently on the waiting list for matches with Big Brothers and Big Sisters. The Big Bunch Friendship Program allows adult volunteers to spend time in small groups with children who are not yet matched.

Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Cornwall & District was established in 1973 to help children growing up in single parent families in Cornwall and the Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry to reach their full potential. One of their recent challenges has been an increasing number of single parent families and the growing demand for Big Brothers and Big Sisters.

Before receiving the Trillium grant, the organization had a waiting list of 74 children.

Durham, Haliburton, Kawartha and Pine Ridge South Oshawa Community Health Centre/G.L. Roberts School Social Services – “Changing a Community with Technology and Community Service” $147,500 over two years

The G.L. Roberts C.V.I. Roberts is the only high school in South Oshawa. The Centre will also offer community services and parenting courses and will expand an existing recreation program from two nights a week to five.

The lead organization is the South Oshawa Community Development Project, on behalf of the G.L. Roberts C.V.I. Community Network Collaborative. Members of the Network Collaborative are: Durham Family Court Clinic, South Oshawa Community Development Project, Durham Regional Police, Kinark Family Services, City of Oshawa, Durham Board of Education. G.L. Roberts C.V.I. Community Council, Pinewood Centre of Lakeridge Health Corporation, Durham Region Health Department, South Oshawa Family of Schools Administrators, Atlantic Packaging and Paper Products, Federal Health Department, and St. John Ambulance.

Essex, Kent & Lambton

Big Sisters Association of Essex, Chatham Kent and Lambton Social and Human Services – “Rural Outreach”

$221,300 over three years

Rural Outreach is a tri-county initiative aimed at the expansion of Big Sister services in Lambton, Essex and Kent counties. It is a collaborative, coordinated and comprehensive effort to better meet the unique needs of children and volunteers in traditionally under-served rural communities.

Three organizations worked collaboratively to develop a project that would meet the needs of the rural or smaller centered population in Lambton, Essex and Kent counties. Big Sisters Association of Greater Windsor was established in 1972 to enhance the personal growth and well being of girls. Big Sisters of Sarnia-Lambton was established in 1967 to provide an environment to help develop the self-esteem of girls (and boys from mother absent homes) from the age of five. Chatham-Kent Big Sisters was established in 1978 to foster one-to-one relationships between girls and female mentors.

Grand River

Brant County Federation of Agriculture Environment – “Manure Composting and Fertilizer Technology”

$25,000 over two months

The Ontario Trillium Foundation will partially fund a farm-scale application of a system that creates compost from farm waste. The system was co-funded by several other groups including the federal Agriculture Adaptation Council and the Brant Stewardship Network.

The composting system takes farm wastes and converts them to an odourless, pathogen-free organic fertilizer. By composting, rather than storing or spreading manure, farmers can avoid both environmental concerns (greenhouse gases and water contamination) and the odour concerns that may be raised by neighbours.

Grey, Bruce, Huron and Perth
Blue Mountain Watershed Trust Foundation
Environment – “Blue Mountain Freshwater Stream Rehabilitation”
$90,000 over three years

This project, which brings together students, educators, biologists, environmentalists, landowners and farmers in a community effort, typifies Trillium grants as an investment in the future. The grant goes toward stream rehabilitation, part of a large long-term project to bioengineer the stream banks of the Beaver River Watershed.

Using natural and recycled materials, the group, which will include students, will stabilize stream banks that have eroded due to cattle use and spring runoff. The result will be improved fish spawning habitat, maintenance of the area’s natural beauty, and an end to seasonal muddiness where the river empties into Georgian Bay.

Halton-Peel
Food for Life
Social and Human Services/Environment – “Food for Life”
$74,000 over two years

The grant supports a community initiative to distribute surplus food products from bakeries, supermarkets and private donations to community groups and individuals in need in Halton Region.

Food for Life was started in 1996 by a community member and by 1998 was distributing $100,000 worth of food. It currently provides surplus food products to approximately 17 community groups. As well as responding to a need, Food for Life has made a significant impact through the lesson it provides on how society can redirect its surplus materials to benefit other people.

Hamilton-Wentworth
The Giant’s Rib Discovery Centre
Environment – “The Giant’s Rib Discovery Centre”
$23,730 over 9 months

This grant supports the research and development of a new environmental learning centre which will inform, educate and entertain people about the Niagara Escarpment as a World Biosphere Reserve.

The Giant’s Rib Discovery Centre has been in existence since 1998, and was incorporated in April 1999. Its mandate is to operate a multi-media interpretive centre which will highlight the local and global significance of the Niagara Escarpment as a World Biosphere Reserve by focusing on the conservation of flora, fauna and their inhabitants of the Niagara Escarpment Region and its beautification and preservation.

Muskoka, Nipissing, Parry Sound and Timiskaming
The Restoule and District Lions Club
Sports and Recreation – Park development
$10,000 over three months

This grant will be used to develop land into a park area for community use. In summer, the population of this community swells from 600 to several thousand, and they will all benefit from this parkland. It is the only public outdoor gathering place in the small community.

Developments to the park will include the addition of fill, topsoil, grass and safety fencing. The community is providing picnic tables, benches and trees as memorial donations from families in the community. The area will also include volleyball and badminton courts.

Niagara
Port Colborne Minor Hockey Association
Sports and Recreation – “Minor Sports Education & Multi Media Resource Centre”
$14,300 over one year

The association, in collaboration with six other recreation groups, will develop a Minor Sports Education and Multi-Media Resource Centre to benefit all sports and recreational groups in Port Colborne.

Run by volunteers, the resource centre will enable groups to conduct workshops and training for coaches, trainers, referees and players that will improve skill levels, foster sportsmanship and reduce risks of player injury. Some 2,400 individuals are expected to use this facility annually. The project is expected to reduce duplication of services and improve the sports infrastructure in Port Colborne.

Northwestern
The Thunder Bay Regional Arts Council
Arts and Culture – “Thunder Bay Regional Arts Council”
$20,000 over two years

The Thunder Bay Regional Arts Council received $20,000 to hire a part-time events/website administrator, to purchase new computer equipment, for website hosting and operational support.

Thames Valley, Middlesex, Oxford, Elgin

The Oxford Sailing Club

Environment – “Shoreline restoration”

$15,000 one time

The Oxford Sailing Club has been in existence for over 30 years on Lake Pittock in Woodstock. Many years ago, a retaining wall was constructed by burying hundreds of tires and constructing a wall of tires. At the time, it may have seemed an acceptable way to construct a retaining wall, but the tires degenerated into an environmental eyesore and the docks were no longer safe. They were completely inaccessible to anyone in a wheelchair or experiencing any mobility difficulties.

In conjunction with the Upper Thames Conservation Authority, the Oxford Sailing Club removed the retaining wall containing hundreds of old tires. The Club replaced the tires with environmentally friendly rock gabions, also rebuilding their docks making them more accessible and safe. The initiative involved hundreds of volunteer hours. The Canada Trust Friends of the Environment also provided funding.

Toronto
Native Men’s Residence
Social and Human Services – “Street Help”
$46,800 over three years

The Native Men’s Residence (Na-Ma-Res) delivers essential goods and services to the homeless community five nights a week through its Street Help Outreach Program.

The program distributes basic necessities such as food, clothing, blankets, sleeping bags and hygiene items to as many as 225 individuals each night. It also offers counselling, referral and transportation service to various shelters. To date, this program has served more than 50,000 homeless people. The Trillium grant will support one additional night of services to homeless clients, allowing Na-Ma-Res to reach even more people as well as improve its delivery of services.

Waterloo, Wellington, Dufferin
J. Steckle Heritage Homestead
Arts and Culture – “Heritage Teaching Kitchen”
$125,000 over 2 years

The J. Steckle Heritage Homestead received funding to create a “Heritage Teaching Kitchen”, a living education and recreation centre to give children, parents and community groups a practical learning experience of the growing, preparation and preservation of food in a heritage setting.

The J. Steckle Heritage Homestead was established in 1989 as a non-profit community-based living education and recreation centre for youth and their families. Its mandate is to maintain and restore the heritage farm in the Mennonite tradition while promoting and encouraging community awareness and interest in heritage resources through participatory agricultural, educational and recreational programs that utilize the heritage farm site.

1999 Caring Community Award Winners

Rayside-Balfour Sudbury, Ontario

Created in 1890 and 1891, the Townships of Rayside and Balfour were established primarily to serve a logging area and a stop on the railway. From the early 1900s until 1960, many families settled on the land, developing the district as a significant agricultural centre that claims to be famous for its potatoes.

In 1972, under the Regional Municipality of Sudbury Act, the towns of Azilda and Chelmsford were incorporated to form the town of Rayside-Balfour. Rayside-Balfour is proud to be recognized as one of Ontario's francophone communities, with 63% of its 16,050 residents speaking French.

Like many other small northern communities, Rayside-Balfour has faced continuous economic and social challenges. In the fall of 1993 and spring of 1994, a community visioning session led to the development of mutual principles and goals. In an area without industry, townspeople had to become innovative to stimulate economic growth and build a safe and healthy community.

Led by volunteer committees, Rayside-Balfour residents have successfully rallied to respond to issues and to create solutions for all generations and sectors of their community. Two of these successes are the Trillium Centre and the Cote Youth Centre.

Changes in recent years had left Rayside-Balfour with a vacant 118,000-square-foot secondary school and a hole in its job development strategy. Townspeople recycled this facility into the impressive Trillium Centre which serves as a community economic engine through the creation of a police college, an industrial training centre, a national boxing centre, a fitness centre and a seminar conference centre with on-site residential units.

The Cote Youth Centre is a new facility owned by the town and operated by the Youth Action Network and Youth Council. Fully funded without tax-base dollars, it opened in June 1998 and provides a place for young people to gather, play games such as ping-pong and pool and watch videos. Cote Park, which houses an arena, provides outdoor activity including basketball, tennis, fastball and creative play.

This community has adopted six icons to demonstrate the community values of Nature, Family, Spirituality, Agriculture, Mining, and Railway and these icons are incorporated in the community signage. Using a strong community framework, the citizens of Rayside-Balfour proudly and confidently implement a community-driven agenda through committees and task forces, in partnership with the municipal government.

Rainy River First Nations Manitou Rapids

In 1873, seven First Nations signed a treaty with the Government of Canada that led to the formation of the Rainy River First Nations. Located in northwestern Ontario between Rainy Lake and Lake of the Woods, the Rainy River First Nations has 737 registered members, 253 of whom reside on the reserve.

First Nations' philosophy is to involve members in everything that is done. Members select their chief and councillors, who in turn rely on the Elders Council to provide advice and guidance in long-term plans and to ensure that the community's interests are in line with its culture and heritage.

First Nations members are active in community development and the approach to become economically self-sufficient. Monthly meetings give members an opportunity to voice concerns and give advice to council and a bi-weekly newsletter keeps them informed of issues.

In the 1970s, the reserve was at its lowest ebb with addictions (drugs and alcohol), unemployment, poor health, and a spiritual breakdown taking a toll of members. The First Nations leadership took steps to build an economic base through developments that today include part-ownership of two off-reserve ventures, the Red Dog Inn and the Scenic River Mall, and two businesses on the reserve: Manitou Forest Products and Littlefork Ojibway Window Company.

To protect the environment, the Rainy River First Nations want to develop as many partnerships with businesses and municipal, provincial and federal governments as possible. Because they feel it is everyone's responsibility to take care of the environment, they have developed the Rainy River Watershed Program to monitor the river and local wildlife.

Their biggest success is the Manitou Fish Hatchery. Originally developed in 1992 as a sturgeon research facility, the hatchery was converted in 1996 to a commercial operation to raise sturgeon. In December 1997, the hatchery celebrated its success with the release of 50 four-year-old sturgeon in the river.

For the past 20 years, First Nations' members have wanted to develop a cultural centre and world-class tourism facility. In 1999, the Kay-Nah-Chi-Wah-Nung Historical Centre opened, introducing a new cultural venture that highlights the history of the Rainy River corridor and of the Ojibway people.

Roebuck Educational Recreational Association Roebuck, Ontario

Roebuck is a hamlet of 200 residents in southeastern Ontario, less than an hour's drive from Ottawa. United Empire Loyalists arrived in Roebuck, the site of a native village, in the mid-1800s and the community is still home to many of their descendants.

The dairy farms that once dotted the landscape of this rural community have been replaced by a few large farming operations and the local economy is based on jobs found in nearby urban and industrial settings. Life in town revolves around the general store, the church and the community hall. These formal and informal meeting places are the focal point of the community's vision and spirit.

Roebuck began planning for its community hall more than 30 years ago when Centennial celebration dollars were set aside to buy five acres of land. Together, residents raised more than $100,000 and the doors of the Roebuck Community Hall were opened in 1975. That same year, the Roebuck Educational Recreational Association was incorporated to maintain the hall, its adjacent ballpark and playground, and to plan for future development.

Today, the hall plays host to a vibrant array of organizations that keep the spirit of this tiny rural community alive and serve members, young and old. The Women's Institute (founded in 1926 and still going strong) meets at the hall, as does the Senior Citizens' Association. Workshops and seminars are held on fire prevention, first aid and soil and crop improvement, to name just a few. Local young people attend the community dances and make good use of the playground, park and outdoor rink.

The community hall is also designated as an emergency shelter for a public school in a nearby community. For nine days during the January 1998 ice storm, residents were able to get meals, water and heated shelter at the hall.

Roebuck's energetic social life is contagious, attracting people from the neighbouring communities of Prescott, Seeley's Bay and even Ottawa and Kingston. The community's success has also been an inspiration to other communities. Fitzroy Harbour, located on the other side of Ottawa, now has its own community hall, thanks to Roebuck's model.

The Six Nations of the Grand River First Nation

Located along the shores of the Grand River in southern Ontario, the Six Nations of the Grand River First Nation is the largest populated reserve in Canada, with a total on-reserve population of 10,186. The Six Nations of the Grand River is made up of Mohawk, Oneida, Onondaga, Cayuga, Seneca, Tuscarora and the Delaware First Nations.

Like many other First Nations, the Six Nations has struggled with cultural and political isolation. Maintaining the customs, traditions, and language of both the individual nations and the community as a whole has been its greatest challenge.

The Six Nations of the Grand River First Nation comes from a long tradition of working together for the community. Almost 900 years ago, these Haudenosaunee or Iroquois nations came together in a confederacy remembered as the "Great Law of Peace," with the sole purpose of promoting and maintaining peace.

Through immersion programs and informal lessons from fluent members of the community, the Six Nations have been able to maintain their language. There is also a dynamic view of religion. Some residents follow the Great Law of Peace and take part in traditional ceremonies, while others belong to various Christian denominations.

Volunteerism is central to the development and sustainability of the Six Nations community, and is at the heart of its boards and committees. The Six Nations Library Board, Tourism, Parks and Recreation, Special Services, the Board of Directors for Six Nations Polytechnic, Ganohkwasra (women/men/family shelter), Iroquois Lodge (seniors home), and the Home and School committees for the five elementary schools all benefit from their commitment.

The Six Nations of the Grand River cherish the environment, believing that Mother Earth is a gift that provides humans with food, clothing, shelter and medicine. The community's desire to protect its environment has led to the Grand River Notification Agreement that ensures that in the case of any federal, provincial or municipal development along the river, each community will be notified.

La Communauté Théâtrale Franco-Ontarienne (The Franco-Ontarian Theatre Community)

For many years, Ontario's French-language theatre companies struggled to meet the needs of French-speaking communities that were both small and widely spread out across the province. The disparate companies had great difficulty raising money, supporting new plays, mounting productions and maintaining their public profiles. These difficulties stunted the companies' growth financially, artistically and culturally.

To address these problems, a group of artists who shared a similar vision came together to form La communauté théâtrale franco-ontarienne. Their first step was to create a central body that would connect French-language theatre organizations across the province. This allowed professionals and amateurs alike to share their resources, ideas and expertise, and helped to heighten the profile of Franco-Ontarian theatre.

Early on, the community decided that it had to increase and maintain awareness of the cultural aspects of French-language theatre if it were to succeed. Realizing that one way to do this was to increase the involvement of French-speaking school children in theatre, the community created touring groups, workshops and educational materials. Students were not only exposed to French theatre and culture, they were invited and encouraged to become participants.

Today, the Franco-Ontarian theatre community is a cornerstone of the artistic and cultural community of French-speaking Ontario. The community, which includes 10 professional theatre companies, 40 community companies, 30 educational groups and 150 freelance artists, demonstrates the role the arts can play in helping a community define itself and preserve its identity.

Le festival de théâtre communautaire franco-ontarien is one of the community's greatest accomplishments. Every two years it works in partnership with local companies to develop a festival of Franco-Ontarian theatre in a different corner of the province. Last year, the second annual festival was hosted in Kapuskasing and next year's festival is scheduled to take place in southern Ontario.

The community also hosts a festival of Franco-Ontarian theatre specifically for students. Last year, more than 300 Sudbury students participated in the festival and this year, students in Mississauga were treated to 15 different shows over a four-day period.

- Investment income totalled nearly $5.1 million.
- At March 31, 2000, the Foundation held approximately $79.8 million in investments, largely in short-term treasury bills and bankers' acceptances. These funds represent multi-year grant commitments invested to maximize interest income for the Foundation. Investments are made under the policy direction of the Ontario Financing Authority.
- Operating expenditures for the year were $7.6 million, considerably below the approved budget, primarily as a result of hiring delays and program start-up. It is anticipated that expenditures in the coming year will be approximately $10 million.
- Accumulated net assets at year-end totalled $8.8 million, of which $1.4 million was invested in capital assets and $7.4 million represented unrestricted assets. Future investment income from the unrestricted assets will contribute towards the Foundation's operating expenditures, thereby increasing the funds available for grants.
- Volunteers make a significant contribution to the operations of the Foundation. Given the difficulty of estimating monetary value, these contributions are not reflected in the financial statements.
- Funds may be recovered, or future payments rescinded, in cases where circumstances (e.g. planned activities, budgets) change or where grant conditions or performance objectives are not met.

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors of the Ontario Trillium Foundation

We have audited the balance sheet of the Ontario Trillium Foundation as at March 31, 2000 and the statements of operations and changes in accumulated net assets and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the foundation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Canada. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In our opinion, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the foundation as at March 31, 2000 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada. As required by the Corporations Act (Ontario), we report that, in our opinion, these principles have been applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

March 31, 2000

1. PURPOSE

The Ontario Trillium Foundation ["Trillium"], an agency of the Ministry of Citizenship, Culture and Recreation [the "Ministry"], is financially supported by the Government of Ontario. Trillium began operations as an arm's length agency of the Ontario Government on August 23, 1982 and was incorporated without share capital under the laws of Ontario under letters patent dated November 17, 1982. Trillium's purpose is to work with others to make strategic investments to build healthy, sustainable and caring communities in Ontario.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Canada applied within the framework of the accounting policies summarized below:

Revenue recognition

Trillium follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions, which include government funding. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. Contributions externally restricted are deferred and recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are recognized.

Investments

Short-term investments and guaranteed investment certificates are recorded at cost. Bonds are recorded at amortized cost.

Grants

Grants are recorded as expenses in the year that the Board of Directors approves the grant.

Capital assets

Capital assets are recorded at cost less accumulated amortization. Amortization is provided on a straight-line basis using the following annual rates:

Furniture and fixtures	5 years
Computer hardware	3 years
Computer software	1 year
Leasehold improvements	over term of the lease

Of this amount, $90 million must be used for the two grant programs and has been recorded as funding received in the continuity of deferred contributions [note 6[a]].
